

Varun Patel

Non-executive Director

"Mr. Varun Patel holds a Bachelor's degree in Electro-Mechanical Engineering from Aston University, UK, and a Master of Science in Energy Management from the New York Institute of Technology, USA. With extensive international exposure, he has been actively involved in overseeing the Company's operations in the United States, contributing valuable strategic insight and global business acumen. His expertise combines technical proficiency with a strong understanding of energy management, enabling him to play a key role in driving the Company's growth and operational excellence."

Full-time positions in other Body Corporates

1. Mamata Machinery Limited